The View
From My Window
WITH PASTOR JOEL

When I attended Bible College we had a group of students from Nigeria. They were older than most of us, had wives back in Africa, & struggled to speak English, but they always had a ready smile for anyone who looked their way.

The day they really became a part of the student body is the day they sang for us. With no accompaniment except their harmonizing voices they sang several songs in a very African style. Out of the 7 or 8 in their group only a couple could carry a tune on their own but when they sang together it was beautiful, inspirational, & powerful.

What a great picture of the church! We have a couple skilled & talented people but the real power of the church is when we work together to serve the Lord & others. There's a quote we like to use around here: "If you want to go fast, go alone; if you want to go far, go together."

Let's go far.
