The View from My Window

with Pastor Joel

On the newsfeed this morning I read of an actress who died of breast cancer at the age of 57. Although I didn't recognize the name, her picture was familiar. Her name is Kelly Preston, and as I clicked on the article, I was surprised to learn that her husband of 30 years is John Travolta. She passed away on July 12, 2020 after a two-year battle with her illness. Travolta wished to thank all of their family, friends, doctors, nurses and care givers for their support through that very painful season. They fought hard and spared no expense seeking a cure that didn't come. I was reminded once again how precious and brief life is.

It won't be long and it will be our turn to leave this world. That's not the end of our life; we live on. Those who are in Christ have a glorious future ahead. In all of the planning, preparing, building, studying, working, playing you do, be SURE to be ready for the day Jesus calls your name. You don't want to miss heaven for all the world.
