The View from My Window

with Pastor Joel

There is a fine line between being encouraged and being content. When we can see measurable growth in our spiritual life it feels really good. It should spur us on to greater heights. Unfortunately, we sometimes conclude that we've come far enough. When following Jesus, there's no such thing as "far enough". He is a constantly moving leader. Jesus is never finished with us this side of Glory.

Allow the progress you've made to encourage you onward but don't settle for where you've been; believe for more. More what? More worship, prayer, love, patience, excitement, joy, peace...more of the Lord in your life.

As we finish our study of II Corinthians, we can ask ourselves: is this book one of encouragement or warning, filled with warm greetings or harsh rebukes? The answer is, "yes". Just like in life, there are areas where we deserve a pat on the back and there are zones where we need a swift kick in the rear. Fortunately, our God is good at both. Cherish your accomplishments and strive to overcome your weaknesses.
