The View from My Window

with Pastor Joel

Life is hard. God is good. Clearly, we need more of God in our life. We spend far too much of our lives expecting God to tag along as we navigate the seasons of our years here on this planet. He's supposed to protect us from enemies, cause our efforts to be successful, inspire us to become great, and prosper our finances as we do what we want to do.

We've often heard that we need to vacate the driver's seat but I think a better analogy might be to use GPS, God's Positioning System. We're still doing the driving, making the choices, doing the walking, talking, etc. but only as directed by Him. In order for that to happen we need to INSTALL the right software then adjust the volume so that we can hear His directives.

If the Holy Spirit's voice has become too faint for us to hear, we need to spend more time seeking God. Soaking in His presence, not just visiting His church is necessary. Nothing replaces time alone with the Lord. He's speaking; are we listening?
