The View from My Window

with Pastor Joel

We have a friend who got a Yorkie puppy about 7 or 8 months ago. It's really cute and she's very attached. Unfortunately, the dog has severe health problems that began to show up soon after she brought the dog home. Fortunately, they purchased pet insurance when they bought the puppy. Unfortunately, the dog has had to spend several nights in the veterinary clinic and undergo some nasty procedures, medicines, etc. Fortunately, it's a smart little pup that has learned a few tricks already. Unfortunately, its owner has severe health issues of her own. Fortunately, having the puppy helps her cope with her issues. Unfortunately, the puppy's issues add to the stress of the owner's problems...

Any realistic person has to be somewhat pessimistic. After all, bad stuff does happen to each of us. However, a person of faith is called to be optimistic because of all the great and precious promises we have been given from the Lord. Joyful people choose to focus on the future results of having endured those bad episodes rather than the present pain they cause. We don't need to deny that the pain exists in order to be joyful. We know that the pain will end and there will be a treasure at the end of that rainbow.
