The View from My Window

with Pastor Joel

As I see the end of my pastoral career appear on the horizon, God willing still a few years off, I think about those things most necessary to communicate. The Gospel of John heads that list. It was written that we might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Messiah, the Son of God come to save us from our sins. It contains what is likely the most important verse in the whole Bible: "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believes in Him shall not perish but have everlasting life."

I fear that as I have labored to prepare for this series that I've sliced the bread a little too thin, that is, spent too much time in each of the chapters rather than just hit the highlights. The problem with this is to drag the series too far out and perhaps lose the interest of my audience. At the same time, I fear that I've not been studious enough, missing some nutritious morsels that might make a real difference in your spiritual walk. But I suppose that is the dilemma of every pastor as he sets about the task of feeding the body.

Pray along with me that what is most necessary will be brought out each week and that all of us will be strengthened by it.
