The View from My Window
with Pastor Joel

I have a number of friends who love to work. Some people are motivated by money therefore they're working a lot of overtime, I'm not talking about them. I'm talking about people who enjoy doing things that make life better for themselves and others. They're not lazy. They're motivated. They often do difficult tasks that take a long time to complete not only for the joy of the finished project but also for the joy in the process.

Isn't life odd? There are people who won't even take care of themselves, let alone others. Then there are people who make it their goal to take care of everyone and everything. What makes one person so productive and another not? There are likely a million correct answers to that question, each as individual as each individual.

One of the keys to working hard is no doubt enjoying what you're doing. Jesus enjoyed His ministry. It was hard. He was strongly opposed. There were very few personal perks. Yet, He was driven to seek and save the lost much like a first responder on a search and rescue mission. It's not about how much they're getting paid or getting their story to go viral. It's about finding someone before they suffer another moment of fear, loneliness, pain or want. Finding them fills a place in one's soul like nothing else. Let Jesus work in you, He loves it.
