The View from My Window

With Pastor Joel

I'd like to make fun of your favorite football team for the way they continually cave into the demands of players who say things like, "I love this city, the fans, the coaches and my teammates. I can't imagine playing anywhere else. If you will pay me more than any other player at my position has ever gotten paid, I'll continue to play here." To quote a song from the 80s, "What's love got to do with it?" I say I'd like to make fun of your team but mine has signed players just like that too.

What could possibly make a player worth hundreds of millions of dollars? We're not talking about a person who saves lives or develops cures for debilitating diseases or can help the paralyzed walk again. We're talking about someone playing a sport. Millions of us pay to play sports: golf, bowling, tennis, swimming... We pay for our own equipment, gym memberships, court time, green fees, ace bandages, ice packs, anti-inflammatories, etc.

I think I could make a strong case for professional athlete salaries being the cause for inflation! Advertiser, cable & ticket prices all go up to pay them. Your drive through sandwich costs more because they hired one or more of these overpaid celebrities to take a bite out of one on national TV. They take our money and act like they're being disrespected when being offered tens of millions of dollars. Oh, but we love our stars!

What was Jesus' motivation? Did He ever hold out to negotiate a better contract? Why would anyone ever accuse Him of selfish motives? What about you; have you ever been tempted to question His heart, His character, His right to rule? Where would our team be without Him?
