The View from My Window

With Pastor Joel

Our dear friend, Shirley Warner used to be the director of another church's Youth Group. As part of their ministry to the church, they conducted a service using today's passage as their text. It talks about Jesus being the vine and we are the branches. She tasked one of the students to find a vine they could carry in together to illustrate the message. He did and they did. Only later did they discover that it was poison oak!

Maybe it illustrated the point too well: everyone in the Youth Group had a bright, itchy rash for the next week. All of the "branches" were deeply affected by the vine.

This is a very popular text, and with good reason. We need to stay connected to Christ in order to be effective in ministry. The Bible is filled with illustrations of things going wrong whenever the people of God neglected to hear from the Lord before they took action. We are no good on our own, we need the power of God flowing through us every day.
