The View from My Window

With Pastor Joel

It's not as easy to follow God's lead as we make it sound. It takes focus and attention to piece together the Lord's revelations to us in order to do what He's created us to do. To ignore His directives always leads to disaster. Yet to figure out exactly what He's directing us to do can be a really wild adventure.

In today's text we find Israel once again following the world's lead rather than that of the Lord. We always want to send someone else to figure out what God wants us to do rather than come to our own settled conclusion. Connecting with God is actually the point! Doing what He tells us to do is secondary. The Lord wants to connect with you more than He wants you to work for Him. God is more interested in winning all of you than He is with you winning all the world. Learn to connect with the Lord then seek Him out daily. That's when life gets good.
