The View from My Window

With Pastor Joel

When I first started playing racquetball at the Y there was a fellow who only played on Saturdays. He often talked about coming in during the week at 4:30 a.m. to play but never did. I could tell he liked playing against me because he always won. That trend continued for about a year. After that we became quite competitive. Once I had the upper hand he quit coming. I found it interesting how his personality changed as our skill levels crossed paths. He was much friendlier as a winner.

Maybe you've had the experience of getting along wonderfully with your coworkers until you got a promotion. Suddenly, you're not one of the guys (or gals) anymore. Position changes people. That's the case in today's text. Daniel was a good, godly man but his success turned former friends into rivals who went to great lengths to have him eliminated. Fortunately, Daniel had Friends in high places. He secured their protection through prayer. God listens when we pray.
